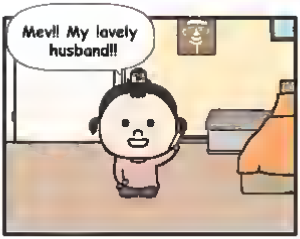
I Wont to Show Off

While I was in Koreo,
I was sometimes dying to talk to Mev

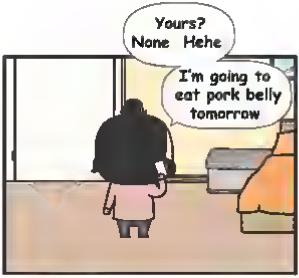
Because I missed him?

Or because I was worried about how he was doing?

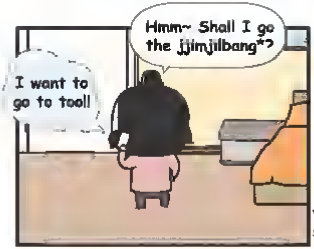


The reason was...

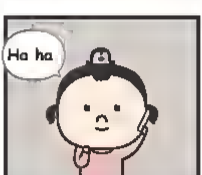
...I wanted to show off what I was enjoying without him.



From the food that I enjoyed...

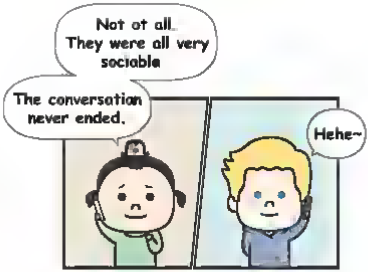


... to places that Mev misses so much.



I was very happy
to tell Mev about them.

This showing off reached its highest point on the day that I went to my new book launch.



Not at all.
They were all very sociable
The conversation never ended.
Hehe~

One of them is a handmade doll, but she couldn't make a Mev doll as she ran out of time.
Oh! And I received many gifts. Hehe

And someone gave me a recipe book that she made.
And ... Ah, you said stop showing off?

Umm ...
Ohi Yeah!

I did a lot of signing

Some people brought other books that I published before as well as the new book. I was touched.

Hey, when was the last time that someone asked for your signature?
Hm! There are many people who like me!!

I showed off so hard to take the mickey out of him.

Mev hung up the phone with a sad voice..

A bit later..

I got messages from Mev..

Mevs tea party

Of..

Of course...
